ReactJS

Speaking of frontend frameworks, I prefer to work with React. As for JavaScript, I mostly work with ES6 and above. Sometimes, I use JavaScript with Node.js for writing build scripts and automation tasks.

.NET

Speaking of backend frameworks, I prefer to work with .NET (both .NET Framework and .NET Core). I also have experience working with ASP.NET in tandem with MVC pattern to build dynamic website.
SQL

I prefer code first approach using Entity Framework Core library over database first approach. Speaking of database, most of my experience is with SQL-based technologies like Microsoft SQL Server or MySQL.
